Health care assisant

Career Profile I am a committed, hard working person who wants to make use of her abilites to listen to people, understand their needs, patiently take care and respect them. I have livelong experience in childcare (in Poland, France and UK) but I am willing to learn and participate in professional training for health care assistant, as I have experience in this kind of care. I am full of energy, punctual and open to new challenges.

Key experience During the last summer holiday, I took care of elderly woman, 83 years old. I worked for her voluntarily for two months (after that I had to move to UK). She is completely blind and struggles with diabetes. I helped her almost every day with shopping, household duties and I listened with great pleasure to her life stories or poems she loves to recite. This experience showed me that taking care of elderly people is both for me and for them pleasant, and that it's the job I am called for.
